Governor's Blue Ribbon Water Task Force

Meeting Notes
February 23-24, 2005
Santa Fe, NM

Attendees: Brian Burnett, John D'Antonio, Estevan Lopez, D.L. Sanders, Larry Blair, Conci Bokum, Wayne Cunningham, Steve Hernandez, Debbie Hughes, Howard Hutchinson, Barbara Johnson, Mark Koffler, Sarah Kotchian, Elmer Lincoln, Paul Paryski, Hoyt Pattison, Bob Vocke, and Jack Westman attended the meeting.

The next meeting of the BRWTF will be March 23-24, 2005 in Albuquerque, NM.

The Task Force reviewed the status of the following water-related bills that have been introduced in the 2005 session - list follows (updated 3/14, see NM Legislature site for bill status). A new domestic well substitute bill will be introduced, which would create domestic well management areas.

47th Legislature - State of New Mexico - First Session, 2005

List of Bills, Capital Outlay Requests, Memorials, and Joint Memorials from the House and Senate that are related to and analyzed by the Office of the State Engineer or the Interstate Stream Commission.

The Task Force discussed the OSE/ISC funding picture with Estevan and the following observations were made:

- Funding for converting temporary FTEs to permanent (50% of conversions being supported);
- Funding for the Pecos settlement (Governor has $10M on the table, the legislative outcome is not clear);
- Funding for the trust funds (no discussion at this time);
- Funding for OSE/ISC operations (appears reasonable);
- Funding for contractors (is being questioned, e.g., senior attorneys);
- Funding for ESA/NEPA (some confusion between litigation request and collaborative effort request); and
- Governor's $65M request (is spread around WTB $17M [includes some new projects], Pecos $10M, Innovation Fund $7M, Game & Fish $5M, and water and wastewater projects).

John and Estevan made the following additional observations:

- NM has a preliminary compact credit on the Rio Grande of 30,000 af;

- A small compact credit was built on the Pecos, but NM leased 25,000 af and it was the 7th wettest year on record;
- The NM snowpack is substantially above average (http://www.wrcc.dri.edu/cgi-bin/sno_narr3_pl), however, upstream storage on the Rio Grande remains an issue with low water levels in Elephant Butte;
- The City of Albuquerque has settled its San Juan/Chama dispute with 30,000 af of storage in Abiquiu for environmental purposes;
- The Governor's priorities include the strategic river reserve, aquifer study, Indian Water Rights Settlement Act, and the domestic well substitute bill, which would create domestic well management areas (90% of the domestic well problems occurs in shallow aquifers associated with stream corridors); and
- The domestic well fee bill could be used to mitigate domestic well impacts.

The Task Force made the following observations while discussing AWRM and markets:

- Markets should be allowed to deliver environmental services;
- Values need to be placed on environmental/ecological services (e.g., water) and investment capital attracted;
- Environmental services/ecological services can be enhanced through the market place; and
- Overlapping political boundaries/service areas is an issue in 40-year and regional water planning.

John made the following observations relative to AWRM:

- 7-8 basins have been identified;
- The Lower Rio Grande is the highest priority (end of calendar year) and the Lower Pecos is expected a couple of months later (supplemental wells are mitigating);
- The San Juan schedule is not set;
- Replacement plans allow water markets to work – provides juniors with opportunity to secure water from seniors during shortages on an annual basis;
- NM must get mechanisms in place to administer water on a priority basis and allow markets to work for the good of the economy (e.g., water can move out of agriculture during dry years to M&I [higher ROI] and back to agriculture during wetter periods);
- MRGCD is contesting the general framework, but OSE will not administer from these in a specific basin – there will be basin-specific plans;
- Basins can come up with alternative strategies (e.g., San Juan or EBID surface water), but basin-specific rules, metering, and water masters are still needed as a hammer;
- A water right holder's perspective on AWRM varies depending on whether they are senior, junior, or in the middle – a regional basin approach (if any) other than AWRM will be driven by the mix of water right holders;
- Public welfare considerations need to be further refined (e.g., the Estancia Basin and RWPs);
- The treat of Texas exporting unappropriated drove NM RWP/public welfare – the issue is now moving appropriated water in the market; and
- RWPs are not enforceable.

The Task Force discussed watersheds and the following observations were made:

- An interagency group (includes, Ag. ED, EM&NR, OSE, Indian Affairs) is working the NM watershed issue;
- Funding is spread around and there is competition for funds and control;
- There is a lack of accountability in many projects;
- There is a lack science and monitoring/assessment of projects in many cases;
- An office of watershed management has been established in EM&NR;
- S&WCDs are important players and have access and have demonstrated the ability to get the job done, but a good science-based assessment of results and ROI are needed; and
- Partnerships with the feds are needed e.g., the Four Corners Area activity, which includes three national forests.

D.L. and John made the following points on AWRM:

- AWRM allows OSE to administer water based on priority administration;
- AWRM speeds up adjudication and the work of OSE feeds into it e.g., data bases and metering/measuring; and
- Aerial photography is being piloted to speed up adjudication in the San Juan Basin.
